A total of 25 students actively participated in the quiz competition. The event began with a brief introduction highlighting the significance of Wildlife Week and the role of students in conserving wildlife and natural habitats. Participants were encouraged to enhance their knowledge beyond textbooks and develop an interest in environmental and wildlife-related issues.

The quiz competition included multiple rounds covering topics such as wildlife species, national parks and sanctuaries, endangered animals, environmental laws, biodiversity hotspots, and conservation initiatives. The interactive format of the quiz generated enthusiasm and healthy competition among the participants, promoting quick thinking, teamwork, and analytical skills.
