Brief Report

On December 2, 2025, the Bhoomitrasena club, in association with the PG Department of Botany, organized a hands-on training session on value-added products of mushroom. The program was inaugurated by Principal Dr. V M Santhosh. Under the guidance of Mr. Rajesh P, Lab Assistant of the Botany Department, students actively participated in the session and successfully prepared mushroom pickle and chutney powder. Dr. Deepamol, Coordinator of the Bhoomitrasena club, inspired the students to explore the potential of mushroom cultivation and processing. The event saw active participation from all teachers, who guided the students throughout the session, making it a valuable learning experience. To put their skills to practice, the students sold all the prepared items among the teachers and college office staff, making it a successful entrepreneurial

- venture.
