Brief Report

Student-led Pond Enhancement and Fish Farming Initiative commenced with an introduction session where students were briefed about the objectives of the program and the significance of introducing fish into the school pond for both enhancement and fish farming purposes. Following meticulous planning and preparation, students gathered at the school pond for the release event. Under the guidance of teachers and experts, students actively participated in releasing the fish into the pond, ensuring proper handling and care. Educational demonstrations were conducted to enlighten students about fish habitat requirements and the importance of maintaining water quality for successful fish farming.
