Brief Report

The Bhoomitra Sena Club at Henry Baker College, Melukavu, organized a programme on climate action and conservation on 19.07.2024. Members of the club displayed posters on the notice board provided by the Meenachil Rain River Monitoring System on climate change and its effects on ecosystem. It effectively showcased vital information about how climate systems operate and the implications of climate change. The exhibition aimed to educate students and faculty members about the mechanisms behind climate fluctuations and their significant impacts on the environment and society.
